

LA StreetSummit 2010

Biking, Walking and Beyond

Join us for the Antoinette & Vincent M. Dungan Lecture on Energy & the Environment and a day full of speakers and workshops to formulate exciting plans for a better public realm in the streets of Los Angeles!

Don't miss an exciting opportunity to hear:

Janette Sadik-Khan, New York City Transportation Commissioner

Sadik-Khan is transforming the streetscape of New York City into a healthier, more people-friendly place--for bicyclists, pedestrians, people of all ages and abilities!

Sadik-Khan's address kicks off the "L.A. StreetSummit 2010: Biking, Walking and Beyond." The StreetSummit will focus on creating more connected and livable places for Southern California communities.

And at the LA StreetSummit 2010:

Carl Anthony, former President of Urban Habitat and former head of the Sustainable Metropolitan Communities program at the Ford Foundation.

Anthony is a nationally recognized leader in the African American community who has been in the forefront of linking sustainability, regional equity, healthy communities, and environmental justice for more than four decades.

Charles Gandy, Long Beach City Mobility Coordinator

Gandy is a recognized expert in community design and has played a catalytic role in Long Beach's efforts to make that city one of the premier bike and pedestrian friendly cities in the country.
